

Plenty Hot

Dresden, June 22nd-25th 2023

PROGRAMM • FACTSHEET
LINDY HOP BOOGIE JAZZ DANCE CAMP

9TH EDITION

> 2012 - 2023 <

The background of the entire image features a light pinkish-red color. Overlaid on this background are the silhouettes of two people in a Lindy Hop dance pose. The person on the left is in a lead position, with their back to the viewer, arms around the partner. The person on the right is in a follow position, facing the viewer and slightly turned towards the lead. The silhouettes are a darker shade of the background color.

HELPDESK

<https://plenty-hot.com/tickets/code-of-conduct>

WHAT IS OKAY? aka, how can I treat everyone respectfully?

Dancing is about fun, but also about consent. Communicate with your partner and ensure you are both feeling comfortable and safe. That also relates to aerials and dips.

Be good people: do not use discriminating behavior, for example misogynist, homophobic, transphobic, ableist, or racist language. Ask for verbal consent: "Would you like to dance?" "Would you like a drink?"

Even if you've been given consent before, ask every time. Use your words.

Respect the bodies and persons of other people: do not touch anyone without asking permission, do not touch anyone inappropriately, and stop if someone asks you to. Do not harass or pester someone who has already said no to a dance. If someone lets you know, verbally or non-verbally, that they are feeling uncomfortable, address your behavior, apologize sincerely, and make a change immediately.

If you need emergency assistance, crisis hotlines such as the below are also available to you.
